Martin Andersen

About me

I am a recent Multimedia Design graduate from Denmark who has recently moved to the Netherlands. I enjoy combining creativity and problem-solving to create digital experiences and visual content that are both functional and engaging.

Through my education, internship, and projects, I have gained experience with UI/UX design, digital communication, branding, and tools such as Figma and Adobe Creative Cloud. I am an organized and curious person who enjoys working with others, learning new skills, and finding solutions to challenges.
